Director Brekke presented an overview of the Land Use Code revisions and changes that had been made to the code based upon feedback from community members and the Planning Commission. Commission members discussed various changes that they wanted to see. Changes that gained consensus included: reducing the minimum number of units back to their original numbers, increasing small lot single-household dwelling design standards within a R7 zoning districts across the City, and parking reductions related to transit stops increased to within 2,500 feet.

To assist the Commissioners in their understanding of the purpose of design standards, Staff presented three site plans that had recently been submitted to the Planning Division for review. Discussion between Staff and Commissioners continued.

Chair Schwab directed the Commissioners to provide staff any new changes that were desired prior to the next meeting so that they could be incorporated into the proposed changes and ready for recommendation to City Council
